

Learning or Working

I want a boy who is LEARNING

- Learning from his mistakes
- Learning from the mistakes of others
- Learning how to give without expecting anything in return
- Learning how to forgive others for their shortcomings
- Learning how to take no for an answer
- Learning how to persevere when life gets stormy
- Learning how to find good in the frustrating nuances that happen throughout his day
- Learning how to grow and become A BETTER HIM.

I want a boy who is WORKING

- Working towards a greater goal
- Working on himself each day
- Working on improving his relationships with his family and friends
- Working on deepening his connection to G-D
- Working on giving life all he's got
- Working on finding the good in everything that happens to him
- Working to overcome his natural negative tendencies
- Working on growing and becoming A BETTER HIM.

THIS is the person I want to marry
